why hire a wedding planner?

Extra time is a rare commodity for all of us. A wedding planner will do the time-consuming legwork while make the final decisions, all the while helping you to stay within your budget.

You can be involved in the planning as much or as little as you'd like. As the wedding day draws near and the stress rises, a wedding planner is there to deal with the last-minute details and the unexpected.

A wedding planner is a must, if only for the day of the wedding. While family and friends may volunteer to oversee the festivities, an event planner saves you and those closest to you from having to direct the day's events. This allows you to enjoy the day, knowing everything will be taken care of.
